

CUSTOMER STOCKING REQUEST

Tahoe Artesian Water™ is sourced from a single, pristine granite aquifer located at 7,000 feet above sea level in California's Sierra Nevada Mountains.

This eco-conscious company captures the excess water that reaches the surface through natural pressurization. This allows the aquifer to remain full — in perfect harmony with the environment.

I feel good about this company and enjoy the soft, healthy and pure taste of this water -- water so pure, it doesn't require distillation, chlorination, or reverse osmosis -- and I would like to purchase it from this store.
